The company's purchases of land through Mr. Hearne embrace all that the company's lines will pass through or damage. The committee appeared to be well satisfied with the arrangement of matters in all except the straightening of Caldwell's run. There was a slight disposition shown to make the company straighten the run clear down to the river.

AMUSEMENTS.

The first performance in this city o teele Mackeye's thrilling drama "Paul Kauvar" was given at the Opera House last evening by a very competer Haworth, an actor of marked ability, in the title role. There was a fair sized audience which evinced its warm appreciation of the play, and the splendid manner in which it was put on with manner in which it was put on with long continued applause at the end of every act. Mr. Haworth and Miss Rechelle, his leading lady, who takes the part of his wife, Diane, received several curtain calls. They both merit the warm words of praise that preceded them. The play, which is a story of the French Revolution is one of highly romantic character and intense interest. The tableau of the guillotine, which is introduced as a dream, in the first act, is magnificent. The play shows inventive power, dramatic skill, literary taste and uncommon fervency of humanitarian enthusiasm. It was followed with eager attention, and at times with almost breathless interest.

McCarty & McCall's theatrical con McCarty & McCail's Insarrical con pany commenced a two nights' engage ment at the Grand last night, presen ing "True Irish Hearts," a very pleasing "True Irish Hearts," a very pleasing drama, which has been seen here before but a more satisfactory performance o which was never seen than that of las witness the play last night. Mr. J. P. Sullivan, who takes the part of Lontz, the hero of the drama, played his part well, and the company as a whole made a good impression. This afternoon there will be a matinee for ladies and children and the engagement will close this evening.

The sale of reserved seats will commence at House's music store this morn ing for the entire week's engagement of Baker's Bennett-Moulton comic opera company at the Opera House next week. An exchange says of this popular organization: "Mr. Baker, deserves praise for the management of the company of the c for the manner in which he has equipped the Bennett-Moulton comic opera company for its tenth season. He has left nothing undene to popularize cheap and popular operatic music, each opera having a justice done to it in rendition, costuming and mounting which would put to the blush many of the high-priced operas on the road."

THOMAS SHEA NEXT WEEK Next Monday evening Thomas E. Shea and his company will begin an engagement of three nights at the Grand. The opening will be "Escaped from Sing-Sing," and the other plays to be given will be of an equally stirring character. Mr. Shea has the reputation of putting all his plays on in good shape with special scenery for each play. Seats are its issue of last Wednesday, contained the following:

"Some weeks ago Mansfield Lodge of Eks decided upon an accession to its membership, and for that purpose the names of a large number of gentlemen of the city were cauvassed in open lodge and subsequently invitations to join the lodge were extended to many. The original intention was to initiate a class of twenty-five new members, but it was subsequently found necessary to increase this number to twenty-nine. The work of conferring the degrees upon these candidates, or as many of them as can be present to be initiated, began this afternoon at 2 o'clock and is still in progress and will hardly be completed before 6 o'clock this evening. teacher, with Miss Ettie Roberts at the organ.

After a few remarks from Superintendent Anderson, Miss Annie Reeves, assistant grammar teacher of Madison school, read a finely prepared paper, subject, "Between Bells." It was well read and the close attention given showed that it was appreciated.

Rev. Dr. Cooke spoke for some time on the subject, "Is It Worth While." Some of the points made were as follows: We must be ourselves; each one must have his own individuality. It is worth while that the teacher impress her individuality on the minds of her pupils. The teacher should teach in the spirit of ked over to some extent during the eeting of the Exchange. There is growing impression among the members of the Exchange that no effort will be of the Exchange that no effort will be made to enforce the proposed eight hour rule by the workmen hereabouts this year. During the present week the builders and contractors were waited on by a committee from the local branch of the Carpenters' Brotherhood, and asked as to the stand reported to have been taken at the last meeting of the Exchange with reference to the putting up ly each member of the Exchange. r should teach in the spirit of the Great Master. It is worth while for the teacher to prepare herself for her work. It is, worth while to prepare for anything that is worth doing. He closed by saying that teachers are too apt to criticize each other; how much better it is to see all the good and not hunt out the bad. The teacher should be an optimist—see the good of everything. Let us have charity for each other. The whole talk was full of good things well said. he Great Master. It is worth while fo committee, it is said, was told by all those it waited on that the intention was to firmly resist any demand made for eight hours, and that the Exchange felt itself to be in a condition to beat the men if there was a fight over the question.

It has been the understanding all along that no eight-hour demand would be made in this city unless all the building trades united in making it. The report among the contractors is that the Bricklayers Union has about resolved not to join in the demand.

A contractor, in speaking the matter, said: So far, as I can see there is among the conservative element of those employed in the building trades an aversion to making the demand this year. At the close Superintendent Ander son announced that the State Educa-tional Association would meet at the Moundsville Camp Ground, July 1, 2 and 3, and urged that the sessions of that body be attended by as many of the Wheeling teachers as could get there.

ployed in the building trades an aversion to making the demand this year. They have had a good year's steady work and another year of steady work is before them if they do not kill it. A large number of workmen built themselves homes last year, going into building associations or borrowing money for that purpose. They did this on the strength of the steady work they saw shead and I do not apprehend that they will feel like George Pracht left last night for To-Miss Taylor, the training teacher is Mrs. C. H. Dankworth is down with apprehend that they will feel like sacrificing both their work and then homes to make this demand. The Mr. J. H. Doddridge, of Wheeling, was in the city yesterday.

Robert Cottrell, Esq., is quite ill. A New Method of Treating Diseases.

What are they? There is a new departure in the treatment of diseases. It consists in the collection of the specifics used by noted specialists of Europe and America, and bringing them within the reach of all. For instance the treatment pursued by special physicians who treat indigestion, stomach and liver troubles only, was obtained and prepared. The treatment of other physicians, celebrated for curing catarrh was procured, and so on till these incomparable cures now include disease of the lungs, kidneys, formale weakness, rheumatism and nervous debility. Business appears to be very dull on he railroads. Work is progressing rapidly on the Terminal Railroad. The Northwood Glass works will close o-day for one week.

Communion will be held in the U. P. Church to-morrow week. The protracted meeting at the M. E. church is being largely attended. Mr. C. W. Toland, Principal of the High School, has recovered sufficiently to be out again.

male weakness, rheumatism and nervous debility.

This new method of "one remedy for one disease" must appeal to the common sense of all sufferers, many of whom have experienced the ill effects, and thoroughly realize the absurdity of the claims of Patent Medicines which are guaranteed to cure every ill out of a single bottle, and the use of which, as statistics prove, has ruined more stomacks than alcohol. Wheeling Instalment Co. The quotation "Humanum est errare"

The quotation "Humanum est errare" is the best apology we can make for our many shortcomings in the past, and with it we promise amends. Systems cannot be inaugurated and strictly observed as quickly as we should like it done.—It takes time to make perfect.—The immense trade that was ushered in at our grand opening last November, and continued till the close of 80—pointed out many improvements that we have already established. In asking therefore for your patronage this year—we do out many improvements that we have already established. In asking therefore for your patronage this year—we do so knowing full well that you will appreciate our efforts—and promising you at the same time that we intend to serve you better than ever before.—Your interests are identical with ours.—To serve you is to please us,
